Order Picker License Ottawa

Order Picker License Ottawa - Order picking is otherwise known as order preparation operation. This is one of the main processes within a warehouse and comprises people called order pickers, taking and collecting articles in a certain quantity prior to shipment to be able to accomplish client orders. Order picking is a basic warehousing process. The efficiency in which this particular task is accomplished could be directly related to the productivity of a supply chain. Hence, order picking is one of the most controlled logistic methods. Order picking falls in the category of the warehouse management system.

There are specific types of order picking which comprise: pick to box method, wave picking method, picker to part method or piece picking, zone picking method and sorting systems method.

The pick to box method involves the order picker just filling the boxes with things that are from their particular station. The box then moves on to other locations to until the order is complete. In this particular technique, there is no movement of the order picker personnel. In the wave picking method, the order pickers move round so as to collect the needed items for some orders. The picker to part method or piece picking is similar where the order pickers or picker move so as to gather the items required but for one order only.

In the sorting systems method, there is no movement of the order picking employees. Instead, the stuff are delivered to her or him through an automated system such as automatic storage or a conveyor system. In the zone picking method, each order picker is assigned to one particular zone. They are responsible for just realizing order picking within this specific zone.